América Solidaria works to ensure children have a dignified, fair life and are able to build the continent they dream of and deserve, collectively with a group of volunteers.

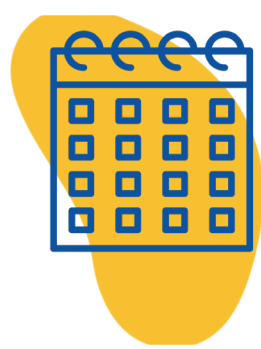

Learning a second language helps children's development, opens their minds and makes them aware of the world. For that reason, as América Solidaria we will implement international volunteering in Chilean Patagonia.

We will work with volunteer professionals willing to teach English to public school students. In this way, they will receive a quality education.
